Ask For 70,000 In The Draft

Army Wants That Many in The Month of November

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—(P)—The Army today asked for a draft of 70,000 men during November.

This raised the total draft call to date to 170,000, all for the Army. In earlier calls the Army asked for 50,000 men in September and 50,000 in October.

Building Up Power

The Defense department said today the Navy and Air Force do not plan to ask for draftees in November. Both services have been building up their manpower with volunteers and by the recall of reserves.

The draft now is limited to single men, aged 19 through 25. Draft boards are calling the older men first.

But with a goal of 3,000,000 men under arms by next June, there is every sign that the draft will soon be broadened.

Only last week, Chairman Vinson (D.-Ga.) of the House Armed Services committee said that in January his group will consider raising the draft age to 35.

Vinson also said it may be necessary to bring World War II veterans under the draft. Most of them are now exempt.

Under present draft calls, a high percentage of men have been rejected by the Army.

Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of selective service, has been prodding the Army to lower its standards. Vinson has said he considers present intelligence tests to be too rigid.

Wide Search On by Air For The Hands

Ten Kansas Planes Join in Quest of Missing Couple

WICHITA, Kas., Sept. 5.—(P)—Air search for a Kansas City couple and their light plane, missing since Aug. 13 on a flight from Amarillo to Kansas City, was being pressed here today.

First Lt. M. H. Murphy, of the Fifth Air Rescue Squadron, Lowry Air Force Base, Denver, said it still was without result.

Sought are Crawford Hand, 38, Kansas City lumber jobber and his wife, Marjorie, 28, last heard from when they left the Texas city the night of Aug. 13. They formerly lived in Sedalia, Mo.

They were flying a five-place, twin-engine Cessna Bobcat, Lt. Murphy said.

Ten Kansas planes joined the air force twin-engine amphibious search plane—an SA-16—in scouring a flight path 20 miles wide, from the Kansas-Oklahoma border to Kansas City today.

Weather in the Amarillo area has not been favorable, Lt. Murphy said, but Texas and Oklahoma Civil Air Patrols have been asked "to put every possible plane into the search."

Kansas planes in the air today, in addition to the SA-16, included nine CAP planes—three from Hutchinson, four from Wichita and two from Topeka—and one plane from the Air National Guard squadron, Wichita.

Lt. Murphy and eight other airmen from the Air Rescue Squadron, Lowry, arrived Monday night from Denver to direct the search. He said a second plane and ground rescue crewmen are expected to arrive today from the Denver air force base.

The Hands reportedly were returning to Kansas City from Santa Monica, Calif.

Red Cross Offices To Close For Funeral

Mrs. Robert B. Spencer, field director for the local American Red Cross, has announced that the Red Cross office will be closed during the funeral services for Miss Agnes Quin, Wednesday morning. Miss Quin was chairman of the surgical dressing department of the Red Cross during World War II and was a board member of the organization until the time of her death.

Woman Civic Leader Dies Unexpectedly

Miss Agnes Quin Suffers Fatal Heart Attack on Sunday

Miss Catherine Agnes Quin, well known civic leader of Sedalia, died unexpectedly about 6:00 o'clock Sunday evening in a small restaurant across the street from the Bothwell hospital, where she had gone after spending the afternoon at the hospital with her sister.

Miss Agnes Quin

Miss Quin, whose home was at 1106 West Fourth street, had spent considerable time each day at the hospital with her sister, Mrs. R. L. Anderson, with whom she lived, and who had been a patient at the hospital and seriously ill since last Thanksgiving day.

There had been no indication Miss Quin had not been feeling well except a casual remark to a friend Sunday morning, when she told her she had felt an unusual pain Sunday evening when she left her sister's room, she talked to nurses and friends as she left the building. Entering the cafe she sat on a stool at the counter and asked Mrs. C. R. Clemons, owner of the Hospital cafe, about Mr. Clemons, who is ill in a hospital at Columbia. Then she spoke of Mrs. Anderson and her condition. Miss Quin, a regular customer there, said she believed all she wanted was a loaf of bread.

She then decided to eat something, gave a small order, and had hardly started to eat when her head fell on the counter, and she was dead within three minutes of a heart attack.

Mrs. Clemons called for assistance from the hospital, but a physician who was called, said nothing could have been done for her.

Miss Quin was born in Sedalia, a daughter of the late Thomas (Please turn to Page 4, Column 4)

Await Action On Controls

Not Likely to be Finally Passed On This Week

Presidential Secretary Charles Ross told reporters the prospect now is that it will be early next week before Mr. Truman goes on the radio with a broadcast of what the government will do to step up defense production and hold down inflation.

Congress sent to the White House last Friday legislation giving the President broad powers to requisition materials, control credit, and—if necessary—put on wage and price controls.

In a world wide broadcast that night, Mr. Truman said:

"After this legislation is signed, I intend to talk to you (the American people) again, to explain what your government proposes to do, and how each citizen can play his part in this national effort."

The legislation is now going the rounds of the government departments which will administer it for recommendations before the actual signing takes place.

Ross estimated that the bill will not return to Mr. Truman's desk before Thursday at the earliest.

That will not give him time to draft a speech for this week-end, Ross said, and he thought it "likely" Mr. Truman will make his next worldwide broadcast early next week at a date not yet set.

Mr. Truman's speech, as now planned, will deal primarily with controls.

13 Die In Crash of Plane

Ten Injured in Crackup of DC-3 Airliner Near Ulica, New York

UTICA, N.Y., Sept. 5.—(P)—Charred wreckage strewn over a farm pasture was all that remained today of a big airliner that carried 13 persons to their death. Ten injured holiday travelers were in hospitals.

The Robinson airliner DC-3 crashed into tree tops and burst into flames about two minutes after taking off yesterday from the new Onondaga county airport. It was bound for Newark, N. J.

A family of five and the three-man crew were among those killed.

Witnesses said the pilot, Capt. Harold Carter of Freeville, N. Y., apparently tried to bring his disabled plane down for an emergency landing.

But the craft hit the trees, caught fire and plunged to the ground. Carter was killed.

One witness said a wing dug into the ground and the plane appeared to spin around on it as it ploughed across the field. The left wing was torn off.

Four persons were thrown out as the plane hit. Three crawled through escape hatches and passersby pulled other survivors from the flaming wreckage.

The civil aeronautics board began an investigation last night.

It was reported unofficially that a piston of one engine blew about 30 seconds after it left the ground. The plane was too low to return to the field.

Appeared "Wobbling"

Charles Johnston, 24, of Drake Hill, Staten Island, said he saw the plane about 100 feet overhead seconds before it crashed. It appeared to be "wobbling" and one of its two engines was dead, Johnston said.

Johnston, who had been working in the yard of a relative's farm home, raced to the wreckage with his cousin, Robert Hesler, 22.

Passengers "were climbing thru an escape hatch," he said. "The plane was a raging inferno. It was too hot to get close."

There was no screaming or hysteria, Johnston said. "It seemed as if everyone was just in a trance. One soldier collapsed but we got him going again. He kept saying 'My head, my head.'"

Johnston and Hesler said they

Hurricane to The Mainland

Brunt of Strong Blow Strikes in Cedar Keys Area

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 5.—(P)—Screaming winds of a tropical hurricane bore down on mainland cities today, toppling trees and sending residents scurrying for storm shelters as its center crossed the coastline from the Gulf of Mexico at Cedar Keys, 52 miles southwest of Gainesville.

Heaviest winds reported were 75 to 80 miles an hour at Cedar Keys, where the storm started inland.

Four hours later, however, Ocala, about 40 miles inland reported only 32 mile winds with gusts up to 36 miles. Gainesville, 52 miles northeast of Cedar Keys, had even less wind.

Dunellon, a citrus packing town 15 miles inland had gale winds with some trees falling and most residents sheltered in the city hall and a school.

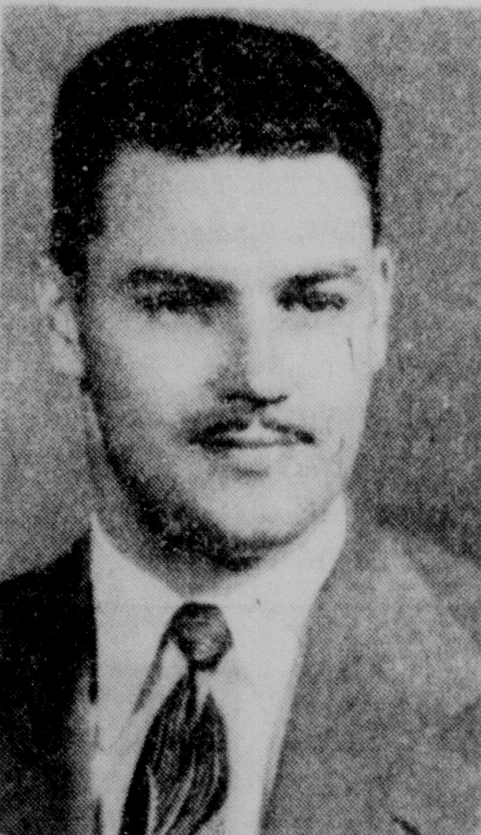

The erratic storm left a 50-mile stretch of resort coastline damaged and soggy.

Tides from six and a half to eight feet above normal swept the pretty resort area from Clearwater to Sarasota, washing out roads, toppling beachfront houses, sinking a few small boats, putting a tug in distress and piling sea water like lakes around homes and hotels.

Patrol Capt. Olin Hill at Cedar Keys reported by radio that the wind was beginning to subside at 11:45 a. m.—nearly six hours after the first hurricane force gusts—sufficiently for a survey of damage.

The beaches around St. Petersburg were hard hit by a raging surf. At least 17 cottages and two concrete buildings were destroyed at picturesque Indian Rocks, a beach resort village 10 miles south of Clearwater. Wind-driven tides were six and a half to eight feet above normal.

Passed Bar Exams

Harold W. Barrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Barrick, 2505 East Twelfth street, who was graduated from the University of Michigan law school and recently passed the Missouri bar examinations. He and his wife, the former Miss Lillian Rages of Hughesville, will make their home in Sedalia where he will practice law.

Charles L. Bacon Heads State Legion

World War II Vet. of Marshall Elected Today

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 5.—(P)—Charles L. Bacon, 40-year-old World War II veteran of Marshall, Mo., today was elected commander of the Missouri department of the American Legion.

The election was the final business of the 32nd annual convention of the department. Bacon, who received a law degree from the University of Missouri in 1934, has practice law at Marshall since that time except for four years in the navy, which he left as a lieutenant commander. He joined the Marshall post in 1946; became Seventh district chaplain in 1947; was elected department judge advocate in 1948 and senior vice commander in 1949.

Other officers elected included: Orval Loomis, Rockport, senior vice commander; Charles Piro, St. Joseph; M. J. Beuder, Kansas City; George Bade, Berger, Mo.; W. E. Kirkpatrick, Jefferson City and Wesley Day, Webb City, all vice commanders; Eugene Brouse of Kansas City, judge advocate; Msgr. J. N. B. McKay, Kansas City, chaplain and James Trainer, Steelville, sergeant-at-arms.

Danger of Intrigue From Moscow With Chinese Reds

By DeWitt Mackenzie AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

One of the gravest hazards America faces right now is the danger of an effort by Moscow to maneuver her into war with Communist China.

I'm not talking about a contingency involving the U. S. naval fleets defense of the island of Formosa from invasion by the Chinese Reds, but about big scale operations on the Chinese mainland. Our Seventh fleet has been assigned by President Truman to defend strategic Formosa pending termination of the neighboring Korean war—but that doesn't contemplate commitments in continental China.

Development of Chinese-American trouble would fit perfectly Russia's strategy of weakening the U.S.A. and her allies by keeping them involved in scattered military operations—Russia meantime standing aside and conserving her own resources until we are whittled down to her size.

Of course Moscow would be running a risk in fostering a Chino-American war because it could easily get out of hand and become another global conflict. Russia isn't ready for that yet. However, there are signs that the Kremlin is at least setting the stage for contingencies which it might develop to its advantage.

There are the reiterated charges that American war planes are bombing Chinese territory north of Korea; that there is U. S. aggression in Formosa; and that we are preparing to make war on Red China. Those are allegations which can be pursued or dropped, as suits Moscow.

Concern Evident

There is one highly interesting "if" in such speculation, and that concerns just how much control Moscow can exercise over the Chinese Communist government, headed by the astute Mao Tse-tung. His chief adviser is Foreign Minister Chou En-Lai, also a highly educated and much traveled man of wide political and

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—(P)—John J. McCloy, U. S. High Commissioner for Germany, said after a conference with President Truman today that the Germans should be enabled "to defend their own country."

McCloy is here for talks preliminary to the Foreign Ministers Conference to be held in New York September 12. The question of what arms should be allowed the west Germans is expected to be the topics discussed at the conference.

McCloy told reporters at the White House that his view is this:

"In some manner and some form, the Germans should be enabled, if they want to, to defend their own country."

"You can't say to them that they can't defend their own country if they are attacked."

Accidents In This Area Minor Ones

No Fatalities Near Sedalia Over Labor Day Holidays

Accidents in Sedalia and Pettis county reported to the police and state highway patrol were of minor nature over the holidays. In Sedalia only four accidents were reported to the police and investigated, while the patrol had only one reportable accident and that involved only one car.

In the patrol report that accident occurred about six and a half miles west of Sedalia on highway 50, about 7:30 o'clock, Sunday morning. A 1949 Studebaker pickup truck driven by Foster Elvin Allison, Oakland, Mo., ran into a ditch when the driver endeavored to avoid an accident when another car pulled in on him.

Allison, the patrol said, lost control of his truck and it went into a ditch. Allison received a laceration on his right elbow.

Shoulder Dislocated

In the truck with him were Mrs. Charles Jones, 50, of Competition, Mo., who received a cut on the right ear, on the face and a dislocated right shoulder and her son Carl W. Jones, 21, who received a fractured right leg, cut on the left hand and another on the right hand. They were treated at the Bothwell hospital.

The son was taken to a hospital in Kansas City and the mother is in the Bothwell.

Four calls were received by the Sedalia police of as many wrecks in an hour and a half's time Monday evening, none of which were of a serious nature. No injuries were reported in any of the four accidents.

The first was at 4:30 o'clock in

Dental Office Burglarized

Two dentist offices in the Ilgenfritz building, Third street and Ohio avenue, were broken into sometime since Sunday night and early this morning. They were the offices of Dr. T. D. Shaad, room 303, and Dr. H. B. Hunter, room 241.

The office of Dr. Shaad was found broken into by Miss Dymple Henderson, his secretary, about 7:45 o'clock this morning. Upon her arrival she noticed the door to the reception room had been "jimmied." She immediately called the police.

A filing cabinet had been "jimmied" and desks and drawers were ransacked.

The following articles were taken from the office: Ten sticks of gold solder, four-penny weight, valued collectively at approximately $22.50; $2.00 in pennies, two one-dollar bills; approximately $1.50 in petty cash, approximately $3.50 in three cent stamps and two-penny weight of 24 carat gold foil valued at about $5.00.

Dr. Hunter found his own office broken into. He said nothing appeared to be missing from his office.

Report That 20 Vessels of The Reds Sunk

Naval Spokesman Says That 'Fierce Battle' Ensued

SOMEWHERE IN KOREA, Sept. 5.—(P)—A South Korean naval spokesman said today 20 Communist transport vessels were sunk off the east coast yesterday by the South Korean navy units.

The spokesman said the navy engaged in a "most fierce battle" in sinking the Red vessels off the coast of Pohang, No. 2 United Nations supply port.

(The dispatch did not give the size of the vessels, nor did it say whether they carried troops. They were reported sunk off the south and southwest of Pohang have been bitterly contesting a Red drive.)

The spokesman said the South Korean navy also gave strong support to the ground troops in the Pohang sector by bombarding Red concentrations. He said it caused "the enemy to withdraw."

Seven North Korean barges also were reported sunk off the south east coast, in the vicinity of Pyongyang. Pyongyang is about 35 miles up the coast from Pusan, major United Nations supply port.

Optimists Open Boys Bond Drive

The Optimist club met today noon at Bothwell hotel at which time the boys bond drive was launched and members were given bonds to sell at $5.00 each to carry on the work of the organization in boys' work.

Harold W. Barrick was introduced as a guest of Judge Dimmitt Hoffman.

The name of a man active in boys work was omitted from the list published in Sunday's paper on the boys' bond drive. It was Robert Phillips, who has been in charge of the East Boys club at Washington school about two years.

The speaker next week will be Frank Maher, who will talk on the subject: "How to Make Money."

Mrs. Dumas to be Lions' Speaker

Mrs. Jolly S. Dumas of Saint Louis will be the guest speaker at the Lions club Wednesday noon at Bothwell hotel at which time she will give a demonstration and explanation of the Keystone Telescope Binocular View Finder, which is an instrument to test the vision of children.

The Lions club plans to purchase this instrument and present it to the school board for use by the school nurse Mrs. John Murrell.

Jimmy Glen will be the program chairman.

Quake Shakes Central Italy

ROME, Sept. 5.—(P)—A series of earth tremors shook central Italy from Rome to the Adriatic coast early today. The only damage reported was at the Abruzzi town of Teramo and nearby villages where at least a dozen persons were slightly hurt.

Soviet Plane Is Shot Down After Attack

Made on U. N. Naval Forces Off Korean Coast

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—(P)—The United States declared today that a bomber marked with the Red Star of Russia was shot down after attacking United Nations naval forces off Korea.

In an unusual flurry of post-midnight activity, the state department called the incident to the attention of the U. N., under whose flag U. S. and other forces are fighting off the Communist invasion of South Korea.

It was the first time this government has charged direct Russian participation in the fighting around Korea.

The state department said that one body had been recovered from the twin-engined bomber and that it had been identified from papers as a lieutenant in the Soviet armed forces.

Formal notification was immediately handed to U. N. secretary-general Trygve Lie and to Sir Glavin Jebb of Britain, this month's security council president.

The department located the incident "approximately" at the 38th parallel, which is the boundary between North and South Korea. The brief announcement did not pinpoint the action above or below that parallel.

Thus there was no indication whether the shooting took place in waters which the Communists regard as their own. It was on the west coast, which borders on the Yellow sea south of Communist Manchuria and east of Red China.

The state department said the bomber "identified only by bearing a Red Star" passed over one of the outer ships in a U. N. formation and headed toward the center "in a hostile manner."

Fired on Fighter

"The bomber opened fire upon a United Nations fighter patrol which returned its fire and shot it down," the state department said.

"A United Nations destroyer succeeded in picking up the body of one member of the bomber crew. Identification papers indicated that the body was that of Lieut. Mishin Tennadii Vasilevich of the armed forces of the USSR, serial No. 25054."

U. S. two-engined bombers carry a crew of from four to seven men.

The state department said the incident occurred at 1:29 p. m., Korean time yesterday (10:29 p. m. Sunday EST).

It was made public in the early morning hours today, at a time when officials who generally had been away from their desks over the long holiday weekend were reluctant to comment without additional facts.

Officials immediately reachable were thus not prepared to speculate whether the affair foreshadowed direct Soviet participation in the Korean war, which heretofore has been regarded as unlikely.

Diplomatic sources did say that the issue is one for the U. N., rather than for this government to consider. It was expected to be a focal point at this afternoon's session of the security council at Lake Success, N. Y.

It was anticipated, however, that any reaction to the shooting would be delayed at least until individual delegations obtain instructions from their home governments.

The council already is considering a U. S. request to all member nations not to help or encourage the North Korean invaders.

There was no immediate comment from the White House on this new turn of events in the Korean war.

It was learned, however, that Secretary of State Acheson and President Truman had been advised immediately after word reached the state department through military channels and that Mr. Truman had approved referral of the matter to the U. N.

At South Flank The Drive Halted By Marines Who Made Good Gains

By Russell Brines

TOKYO, Wednesday, Sept. 6.—(P)—Red Koreans tore a big hole in the north-eastern wing of the 120-mile war front Tuesday.

This threatened all of the United Nations 45-mile rim on the north.

Two North Korean columns with tanks shot through near Pohang port on the Sea of Japan coast. One headed south, the other southwest.

Before them lay the twin highway junctions of Kyongju, 18 miles southwest of Pohang and Yongchon, 20 miles east of Taegu, allied base city of the central front.

In Washington the U. S. state department said a twin engine bomber bearing a Soviet red star was shot down Monday as it attacked U. N. naval forces off Korea. The boy of a Russian lieutenant was recovered by an allied destroyer, the state department said.

But neither American nor British authorities in Tokyo confirmed the Washington announcement immediately.

A British naval task force was off Korea in the general area of the 38th parallel where, the state department said, the incident occurred. A British naval spokesman in Tokyo said he had not received any report from the task force about such an incident.

Halted at South Flank

The mud-spattered allied troops halted the southern flank of the drive in the northeast two to five miles north of Kyongju.

The southwestern plunge by a force of unknown strength swept close to Yongchon, which was under short range mortar fire Monday night.

The Reds seemed headed for Taegu to the west of Yongchon, and Pusan, main allied harbor south of Kyongju.

They were nearest Taegu, both at Yongchon and near Tabu, north of the northwestern front rail hub some 12 miles in the rugged hills.

Pusan has not been closely approached by the North Korean forces. But a Russian war correspondent's dispatch published in Moscow said North Korean big caliber artillery began shelling the Pusan airbase at dawn Tuesday. There was no confirmation of the Russian dispatch.

A driving rain beat down on the whole warfront, miring men and machines in mud and ground-level 75 per cent of normal allied aerial support. Enemy frontline positions were bombed by radar-sighting Tuesday night.

Save on the northeastern front allied troops more than held their own.

Marines Smash Ahead

U. S. Marines and Second division infantrymen smashed ahead six miles in the bridgehead area west of Yongsan, 32 miles south of Taegu.

The Reds were reported abandoning guns and equipment in the flight back to the Nakdong river, which was swollen by rain.

On the extreme southern front, where the Reds lost an estimated 13,000 men in the last four days, the U. S. 25th infantry division

Senate Tax Bill Contains Enough Loopholes to Finance Korean War

By Drew Pearson

Quick Confirmation

On Thursday, August 31, Drew Pearson, in reporting on Truman's crackdowns on General MacArthur and Secretary Matthews, said: "Another reason for the crack-down was that General Orvil Anderson, commander of the air war college, at Maxwell air base, Montgomery, Ala., has been staging a series of lectures in which a preventive war is urged openly." Pearson also told how Father Edmund Walsh of Georgetown University had lectured on this subject at the air war college.

Next day General Anderson, in attempting to deny Pearson's story, virtually admitted it.

A few hours later General Hoyt Vandenberg, Air Force chief of staff, suspended General Anderson.

WASHINGTON—Congress is now close to final action on the tax bill which will affect the pocketbook of almost every American family. Yet this important legislation is so full of fancy, legal language that half the Congressmen—let alone the public—do not understand it.

As a result the big corporation lawyers and tax lobbyists, who helped backstage to write the tax bill, have been able to juggle the commas and slip in clauses that will save their clients millions in taxes. But every penny that the big taxpayers wriggle out of paying will have to be made up by the little taxpayers who can't afford high-priced lawyers to lobby for special tax privileges.

It is no exaggeration to state that in the form adopted by the Senate Finance committee, the tax bill would permit enough money to slip through loopholes to finance a large part of the Korean war. Ironically, it is the same Senators, who profess a belief in saving federal money, who are most willing to let tax millions slip through these loopholes.

The principal Senators, who as members of the finance committee were supposed to tighten the tax loopholes, but didn't, are Democrats Walter George of Georgia, Harry Byrd of Virginia, Ed Johnson of Colorado and Robert Kerr of Oklahoma; plus Republicans Eugene Millikin of Colorado, Robert Taft of Ohio, Hugh Butler of Nebraska, Owen Brewster of Maine and Ed Martin of Pennsylvania.

Freshman Study

However, two upstart freshmen, Senators Paul Douglas of Illinois and Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, decided to make a thorough study of taxes on their own. They called in the best tax experts in Washington, both from the Treasury department and private practice. Together, they went over the Senate's tax bill with a fine-tooth comb, and exposed 11 glaring loopholes. Here they are:

1. DIVIDEND WITHHOLDING—Each year stockholders fail to report in their income tax returns one billion dollars in dividends. This represents a loss to Uncle Sam of 160 to 170 million tax dollars. Wage-earners have their taxes withheld from their salaries, yet the taxes on dividends are not withheld.

2. FAMILY PARTNERSHIPS—The Senate bill allows businessmen to make fictitious "partners" of their wives, children and other relatives in order to evade taxes. This practice was stopped by the Supreme Court after babies were listed as full-fledged "business partners." However, the present Senate bill now reverses the Supreme Court decisions retroactively to 1938.

3. LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES—At a time when everyone else was overburdened with taxes, life insurance companies actually didn't pay a penny income tax for 1947, 1948, and 1949—all as a result of a technical error in the revenue act. The House adopted a provision to collect 50 million dollars of these back taxes, but believe it or not the friends of big business on the Senate Finance committee have now struck out this provision.

4. PERCENTAGE DEPLETION—The Senate bill does nothing to limit the excessive depletion allowances for oil, gas and other minerals which President Truman has described as the worst loophole in our tax laws. This windfall costs the government 400 million dollars a year.

5. OIL ROYALTIES—Oil royalties are subject to regular income tax rates. However, the Senate bill has a special loophole to let oilmen out of paying income taxes in full. All they need to do is "sell" their right to oil royalties, then the same income is subject to the lower capital gains rates.

6. STOCK OPTIONS—Under the Senate bill, corporate executives could draw part of their salary in stock options, which would be taxed at the capital gains rate. In other words, a $30,000-a-year man would have to pay $12,000 in taxes on a $20,000 cash bonus, but only $5,000 in taxes if his bonus were paid in stock options.

7. CORPORATE SPIN-OFFS—This provision would exempt new stocks from taxation. Thus a corporation could pay off its stockholders by setting up a separate firm and distributing the stock. Then the new firm could be dissolved and the stock sold. In this way the profits would be taxed at the capital gains rate instead of the higher rate on dividends.

8. AMORTIZATION—Though the finance committee rejected a tax on excess war profits, the committee allowed special tax benefits on war plants and war equipment. Instead of the usual 15 to 40 year depreciation for tax purposes, corporations can now write off the entire cost in five years. This accelerated depreciation was probably the greatest source of excessive profits during World War II, yet the finance committee voted not to recover these excess profits.

9. PROPERTY SALES—Another tax loophole, which costs the government about 70 million dollars a year, is a special provision favoring the taxpayer who sells business property. If the sale results in a profit, it is taxed as a capital gain. If it results in a loss, it is allowed a full deduction.

10. FOREIGN SUBSIDIARIES—The Senate bill allows domestic corporations to liquidate subsidiaries overseas (such as oil companies), and bring back tax-free profits that have never passed through the federal income tax stream.

11. TAX FREE REDEMPTION—The Senate bill also contains an extremely generous provision whereby corporation owners could draw down accumulated earnings and profits free of income tax to the extent used to pay estate and inheritance taxes.

NOTE—It is significant that two of the Senators who fought hardest for these loopholes were millionaires Bob Kerr of Oklahoma and Eugene Millikin of Colorado.

New Social Security Includes Public Aid and Welfare Grants

By Peter Edson

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—In addition to the increased general benefits and coverage for Old Age and Survivors Insurance and special assistance to the needy, the new Social Security law just passed by Congress made some specific grants for public assistance and welfare.

These grants will total $42 million for the present fiscal year and $47 million a year thereafter. They cover four principal fields:

1. Puerto Rico and Virgin Islands are taken into the Social Security system.
2. Increased child welfare services are provided.
3. Maternal and child health grants are increased.
4. Services for crippled children are increased.

Heretofore, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands have not been in the OASI or public assistance programs, though Hawaii and Alaska have been. Puerto Rico and Virgin Islands will now get Social Security coverage for about 400,000 people, under the same collection terms applying to people on the mainland. Old Age and Survivors Insurance benefits will also be paid on the same formulas applying on the mainland.

For public assistance to the needy, the blind and the totally disabled, the federal contribution for Puerto Ricans and Virgin Islanders will be at a lower scale than on the mainland.

Ceiling on Puerto Rican, Virgin Island Benefits
For aid to dependent children, the federal contribution will be limited to one-half of a U.S. approved sum, up to $27 a month for the first child and one-half of any approved sum up to $18 a month for any additional children in the family.

The new law puts a ceiling of $4,250,000 annual benefits that may be paid out to Puerto Rico, $160,000 to the Virgin Islands.

Congress raised from $3,500,000 to $10 million the annual grant to the states for child welfare services in rural areas and areas of special need. Each state will get a base $40,000 grant. The remainder will be distributed in proportion to the number of rural children under 18 in each state.

The grant to the states for maternal and child health services has been increased from $11 million a year to $15 million for the present year, $16,500,000 a year thereafter.

Each state will get a flat $60,000 grant with which to begin.

Congress also increased the grants to states for services to crippled children from $7,500,000 to $12 million for the present fiscal year, and $15 a million a year thereafter.

In this case, too, each state will get a basic $60,000.

$13 Billion Now for Social Security Trust Fund
Summing up all the changes made in Social Security law by Congress this year, these highlights may be presented:

Social Security collections from payrolls during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1950, were approximately $2,500,000,000. They were paid in by some 35 million insured workers and their employers.

For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1951, with an additional 10 million workers and self-employed people being brought into the system, collections will be about $3 billion.

All this money will go into the huge Social Security trust fund—now totaling over $13 billion—from which benefits will be paid as they become due.

Present benefit payments from this trust fund are at the rate of $1 billion a year in round numbers. They are expected to rise to $2 billion for the calendar year 1951 under the new law.

In addition, grants to the states from the U.S. Treasury's general receipts—not from the Social Security trust funds—are expected to increase from $1,146,000,000 this year to an estimated $1,346,000,000 next year.

There is strong sentiment for putting the whole business on a pay-as-it-goes basis. That is why provision has been made for stepping up the rate of contributions until 1970.

If this doesn't provide enough money to keep the Social Security system solvent, there are several alternatives:

1. Cut down the benefits.
2. Increase the contribution rates.
3. Increase the base amount of annual wage on which contributions could be collected from the present $3600 to say, $4800.
4. Make up the deficit from general tax collections.

OPENING BLOCKED CHANNELS

If we are not reservoirs, but channels, then one of the first things to do in prayer, after reading the Word, is to become silent to God, and let Him put His finger on any blocked channel. The tendency will be to try to pray around that blocked place, to slur it over, to act as if it were not there. That is a part of our inner defense. But don't defend yourself, overtly or covertly. Face the blocked place frankly; confess where you have been wrong; turn over to God simply and frankly your problem, and tell Him you will do anything at any cost to right it, with His help. Or better still—He will do it with your help. For He is taking the initiative to make you the best that you can be.

Here is what one happy, released soul did: "I have been a Christian—in spots, and a church member since I was about nine years of age. But I lived by fears rather than by faith. . . . I decided I'd had enough of it, and that if you knew the way out, I'd certainly try to follow it. Well, you did, so I moved out all the accumulated terrors and panics and anxieties, and asked God to come in where I'd never let Him come before. He did, and I am so happy, because I am sure life is never going to be the same again."

To be relaxed is to be released. Relax, then, toward God and be eagerly open to any suggestion for clearing up your life. But perhaps you are not relaxed toward people. You are holding resentments toward them. Surrender those resentments into the love of God. That love will dissolve them.

Perhaps you are tense toward others because you want to live out their lives for them. Surrender those loved ones to God. I wrote my daughter and her husband when they were married: "I would like my attitude to be: Never in the way, and never out of the way." If you are fussily trying to manage other people in their supposed interests, surrender that fussiness—it is pure selfishness. That attitude ties up yourself and others.

O Thou Tender Silence, speak as I go into silence. Speak the word that will release me and heal me and make me adequate. I consent without reservation to the draining of every swamp of self-centeredness and fear. Clean me to my depths. For the world is sick, and I want to be a part of the cure instead of the disease. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Q. and A.

You and the Service

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Here's the ninth of a question-and-answer series that tells how the Korean war affects reservists, veterans, draft-age men, and anyone likely to be called to service. The author, a member of the Washington staff of NEA Service, conducted a widely-read column on "Your GI Rights" in the months following World War II. He will answer questions only in this space, not by mail.)

WASHINGTON —(NEA)— Q. What's the minimum hitch I can serve in the Marine Corps if I enlist?

A. Three years.

Q. What's the rule about doctors who volunteer for service who aren't reserve officers? Do they get more money? What rank do they get?

A. The present law provides that physicians and dentists who volunteer for service will receive an extra $100 a month in addition to regular pay and allowances. They will be commissioned as first lieutenants unless their professional qualifications entitle them to a higher rank.

Q. I have applied for Aviation Cadet training but in the meantime expect a draft call. What's my status?

A. You will be deferred for four months.

Q. What's the new regulation about enlisting straight into the Marine reserves without becoming a regular?

A. The period of enlistment is indefinite. Men with no prior military service, between the ages of 18 and 32, may sign up at any Marine Corps recruiting station if they meet requirements. They will be enlisted in the volunteer reserve, placed on extended active duty "in excess of 30 days" and sent immediately to "boot" camp for training.

Q. What should a reserve officer in the Air Force do if he gets his call to active duty but thinks he deserves a deferment?

A. Send your request for deferment to the headquarters of the numbered Air Force issuing the recall order, asking for a delay in compliance with your orders. A minimum notification period of 10 days plus travel time is provided in all recall orders, but upon personal request this period may be extended to a maximum of 30 days in justifiable cases.

Q. Do Divinity students have to register for the draft?

A. They have to register but they will be deferred.

He Gets Into Every Act

The Doctor Answers

By
Dr. Jordan

Written for NEA Service

Today's questions all deal with various problems of diet.

Q—Is there a good substitute for starches and sugars, yet low in calories? S. R.

A—Customary drinks like coffee can be sweetened with saccharin instead of sugar. Saccharin does not contain any calories. There are a number of so-called diabetic foods on the market which use substitutes for starches and yet do not contain nearly as many calories as starches do. Essentially the person who is on a strict diabetic diet has made the substitution which you mention.

Q—Is there any substitute for a coffee-craving that can be used to break a coffee-drinking habit? E. S. M.

A—The caffeine contained in coffee is a drug with definite actions on the heart and nervous system. This can and does produce a sort of craving in some people. There are, however, a number of substitutes which are somewhat similar to coffee but do not contain caffeine or only small amounts of that drug.

Q—Is there anything which can be done about my stomach bloating after eating or drinking? T. A. S.

A—The most common cause of bloating, or as it is often called, gas on the stomach, is the unconscious swallowing of air. Many people—particularly nervous ones—swallow air after eating or drinking in this manner. The habit may be difficult to break but one cannot swallow air with the mouth open, so that sitting for a while with the mouth open after meals may prevent this so-called bloating.

Q—The foods which I most like to eat bring on constipation. They are mostly dairy products such as cheese, eggs, milk and buttermilk. What should I do? Mrs. F. F.

A—There are only two possibilities which I can think of. The first is not to eat those foods which you like but which cause you difficulty; the second is to eat so many fresh foods and vegetables with them that they will counter act the constipating effects.

Q—Is it true that middle-aged people who should refrain from eating eggs can eat the yolks of eggs if they omit the whites.

L. H.
A—The egg problem is one which has not yet been scientifically settled so far as the ordinary normal person is concerned. The answer to your question depends on why you were told not to eat eggs.

Q—Does it cause hardening of the arteries for a person to eat calcium-containing foods such as milk and cottage cheese? R. W.

A—It is true that hardening of the arteries is a result of deposits of calcium in the walls of those blood vessels. It is by no means certain, however, that calcium-containing foods in the diet have anything to do with the speed or degree with which hardening of the arteries develops.

Q—Is there anything in the claim that mineral oil is likely to trickle into the air passages in swallowing? A. H. H.

A—In tiny infants there are cases of mineral oil going into the air passages and causing a form of oil pneumonia. This does not happen in grownups.

Q—Can a woman reduce by taking psom salts?
A—This is not an advisable way to reduce. The proper way to lose weight is to eat less.

Miss Luree Albers, daughter of Mrs. Clinton C. Albers, exchanged marriage vows Saturday evening, August 26, with Mr. James A. Fife, of Pacific Grove, Calif., at the Church of the Wayfarer, Carmel by the Sea, Calif.

The quiet informal wedding was held in the tiny candle lighted church which was decorated with white stock and white lilies. A few of the bride's favorite pieces were played on the organ and Dr. Fillmore Gray officiated.

The bride wore a grey softly tailored suit. Her hat and gloves were cream colored and the accessories were black. The guests were only a few members of the immediate family and close friends.

After the wedding a small reception and buffet dinner was held for the immediate family. Later the newlyweds left for a honeymoon in the Santa Cruz mountains.

The couple's new home will be in the Del Monte Forest, Pacific Grove, Calif., where they are members of the Del Monte's Country club. They are building a rustic redwood California house especially designed for them.

The bride is a former pupil of the Warrensburg public school and a graduate of the University of Illinois.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Charles B. Fife. He and his brother are owners of the Big Sur Redwood Supply company and mill of Big Sur and Pacific Grove, Calif.

A surprise party was given Mr. Hugh Fairfax, who celebrated his forty-third birthday on September 1, 1950. The evening was spent playing canasta and pin-ochle after which refreshments were served by Mrs. Fairfax and Laura May.

Those present were the honoree, Mr. Fairfax, Miss Mable De Witt, Mr. M. De Witt, Miss Rosie Sieving, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Miller, Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Licklider, Mrs. Hugh Fairfax, and Laura May and Perry Fairfax.

Forest Fires Over 100,000 Acres

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5—(AP)—One hundred forest fires, covering 100,000 acres of northern California, touched two towns and crept nearer others today.

Forestry officials called upon Arizona and New Mexico to augment several thousand fire fighters battling roaring flames in hot, dry temperatures and fanned by strong winds. An Oregon contingent arrived last night.

In Mendocino county alone, the flames burned over 80,000 acres.

One fire destroyed the post office and two homes in Novarro, Mendocino county. Another home was burned in Ukiah, the county seat, before the fire was controlled and the town of 4,700 population was saved.

In the same county, flames were within two miles of Willits. Nearby, fire crept onto the Ridge-wood ranch of the late Charles S. Howard, owner of such great thoroughbreds as Noor and Seabiscuit.

In Stanislaus national forest, Tuolumne county, 1,000 vacationists were alerted to move out.

Fire which yesterday threatened Mount Shasta, population 1,800, was reported controlled.

ingly confused, but they readily headed southward apparently to catch up with some that had had gone on before. It is unusual for this early.

Oratory on Labor Day in Many Cities

By the Associated Press

Labor day 1950 brought a welcome wage boost to Ford Motor Company workers yesterday (Monday) and an agreement by CIO electrical workers to call off a strike scheduled for today.

The electrical workers accepted without reservation a government proposal—based on the hope of averting a defense production cut-back—to mediate a dispute over wages with the General Electric company.

Ford workers won a new five-year contract, carrying a wage boost which union officials estimated would mean from $45,000, 000 to $50,000,000 yearly to some 126,000 workers.

Labor's annual holiday also produced the usual flow of oratory—some of it keyed directly to workers' problems and others calling on all citizens to gird for a struggle against communism.

The dispute with General Electric had threatened to affect 46 or more GE plants and 180,000 workers—only about a third of them members of the CIO Electrical Workers Union. Some 37,000 members had been called upon to strike today.

Cyrus Ching, head of the U.S. mediation and conciliation service, called on the union and GE yesterday to settle the dispute peaceably. He said "a proper regard for their citizenship responsibilities" required such a solution.

Ching asked that there be no
extension of week-end walkouts already idling 23,000 workers.
The union, according to the request for mediation, said it is up to those idle men whether they will go back to work.

Even before the government acted, a number of union locals had voted to disregard the international's strike call and to stay on the job.

This led Lemuel R. Boulware, GE vice president, to contend that the strike "was already a failure" before the government intervened. He said Ching had been asked to intercede by James B. Carey, the union's administrative chairman. A union spokesman retorted: "Rubbish."

Leaders of the CIO, AFL and United Mine Workers all made speeches.

Eldon Man is Fatally Burned

COLFAX, Wash., Sept. 5—(P)— An Eldon, Mo., man was fatally burned early today in a fire which swept a small apartment hotel.

The body of Guy R. Nichols, 47, was identified by a relative with whom he had been visiting.
He was the only occupant of the building which was being remodeling.

Fire department officials said
Nichols was found dead near a window. He apparently had come within a few inches of reaching safety when he was overcome by the smoke and flames.

When the fire was first noticed at 1:30 a.m., the building was burning hotly.

Cause of the blaze was unknown.
Cecil Phillips of Eldon, a traveling companion of Nichols', had been out of town with Eugene Hyatt, owner of the building who was Nichols' cousin.

Reds in a Thrust
Through Wing of the Allied Front in North

"annihilated" 1,000 North Koreans trapped west of Masan.

AP correspondent Jack Macbeth reported from immediately north of Taegu that muddy U. S. First cavalrymen and engineers came down from the walled citadel of Kasan atop a 3,000 foot ridge which they almost captured in two days of hard fighting.

Maj. Gen. Hobart R. Gay, commanding the troopers' division, said the men were pulled back because the rainy weather made it impossible to keep them supplied by air drops.

But the northeastern front was the most critical.

AP correspondent Ben Price reported the break in the northeastern arm of the allied line could result in withdrawal of the whole allied northern front.

Price said allied troops were digging in high ground immediately north of Kyongju on the coastal road from Pohang to Pusan, on the southeastern tip of the peninsula.

Farewell Dinner Tendered to Captain and Mrs. A. R. Rush

A farewell dinner was given on Tuesday evening at 6:45 o'clock in the Palm room of the Bothwell hotel in honor of Captain and Mrs. A. R. Rush by members of the advisory board of the Salvation Army. Capt. and Mrs. Rush have been called to a field of service in Wellston, St. Louis.

A floral arrangement formed the centerpiece for the table and place cards marked each place.

Judge Dimmitt Hoffman, for many years president of the board, presided and made a few remarks regarding the work of Captain and Mrs. Rush in Sedalia.

Mrs. Frank S. Leach, secretary of the board, gave some of the highlights of the administration of the honor guests of the evening.

Among the main accomplishments was the paying off of the mortgage on the building, amounting to $7,900 and the $5,000 expended for much needed repairs on the building, including a complete renovation, which had not been done for many years. One hundred and three new members of the corps have been added. Both Captain and Mrs. Rush have specialized in the work with the youth and enrolled 135 new members in that department. They also have a splendid Sunday school.

During World War II their work was outstanding. They cooperated with the USO in every way in Sedalia, as well as at the Sedalia Army Air Field. Soldiers arriving in Sedalia at night were taken care of and breakfast provided for them the next morning. A section of the building was given over to war activities and hundreds of young men of the Air Force have blessed the name of the Sedalia Salvation Army. The general routine of the Salvation Army has been carried on with precision.

Praised in Talks

Miss Hazel Palmer spoke feelingly of the high esteem felt for these consecrated officers. She spoke of how much they would be missed not only by the Salvation army here, but by friends all over the city and county, especially the Business and Professional Women of Sedalia of which Mrs. Rush is the retiring president. Capt. Rush is also the retiring president of the Ministerial Alliance.

Harry E. Lindstrom then gave a fine talk on "Why I Like the Salvation Army and the Rushes." Mrs. John Welch conducted a "Question Box" in which she asked questions about the new field to which they were going, the new church for them, the officers' quarters and the large recreation and religious program that they will enjoy. Mrs. Rush answered the questions.

Mrs. J. R. Van Dyne, long a member of the board, told of the "Early struggles and ultimate success of this great welfare work in Sedalia." Mr. Wilks told of the "Outlook for the future of this work in Sedalia." Robert Malone, a new member of the board, was introduced as was C. J. Muller, who with his family have recently come to Sedalia to make their home. He was a member of the Salvation Army board at his home town in Fremont, Neb., and he will continue his interest in the work here.

Mrs. Frank S. Leach then presented the gifts to Captain and Mrs. Rush from the advisory board with the best wishes which follow them to their new field.

The following are members of the board, most of whom with their husbands or wives, attended this occasion: Judge and Mrs. Dimmitt Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Leach, C. L. Carter, treasurer, and Mrs. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Wilks, Mr. and Mrs. George Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Malone, Mrs. J. R. Van Dyne, Miss Hazel Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brunkhorst, Mr. and Mrs. Don Lamm, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lindstrom, Mr. and Mrs. Emery Ellsworth, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Saterwhite, Mr. and Mrs. Abe Silverman, Mr. and Mrs. William Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Allgaier, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. John Welch and Miss Eva Evans.

Practical Nurse Enthusiastic About Hadacol for Sufferers From Neuritis Pains

When due to lack of Vitamins B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, Iron and Niacin in the system!

Mrs. C. C. Keller, who resides at 1629 1/2 Frederick Avenue, St. Joseph, Missouri, welcomed this interview of how the great new HADACOL relieved her neuritis pains. Mrs. Keller is a very, very capable practical nurse and, we can add, very attractive, too.

Mrs. Keller told us she was in a very bad condition from neuritis aches and pains. She was unable to sleep and was forced to give up her position as a practical nurse. She had severe neuritis aches and pains in her wrists and hips—being almost unable to walk.

Now after taking one bottle of HADACOL, she is able to do her own housework, even painting her bathroom. Mrs. Keller enthusiastically recommends HADACOL to all sufferers of neuritis pains.

Helps You Feel Wonderful

You have to hand it to this charming nurse. When she was struck down by such dreadful neuritis pains (due to lack of Vitamins B<sub>1</sub>, B<sub>2</sub>, Iron and Niacin), she did something for herself! She heard about and took this great new HADACOL. And what a different woman Mrs. Keller is today!

HADACOL is not a quick-acting pill which gives symptomatic relief—HADACOL actually relieves the REAL CAUSE of such aches and pains due to these deficiencies in your system. And continued use helps prevent such painful conditions from coming back!

A big improvement is often noticed within a few days' time. You start getting that wonderful, wonderful HADACOL feeling everyone is talking about and you'll want to keep it.

And you can if you just take HADACOL faithfully.

MRS. C. C. KELLER

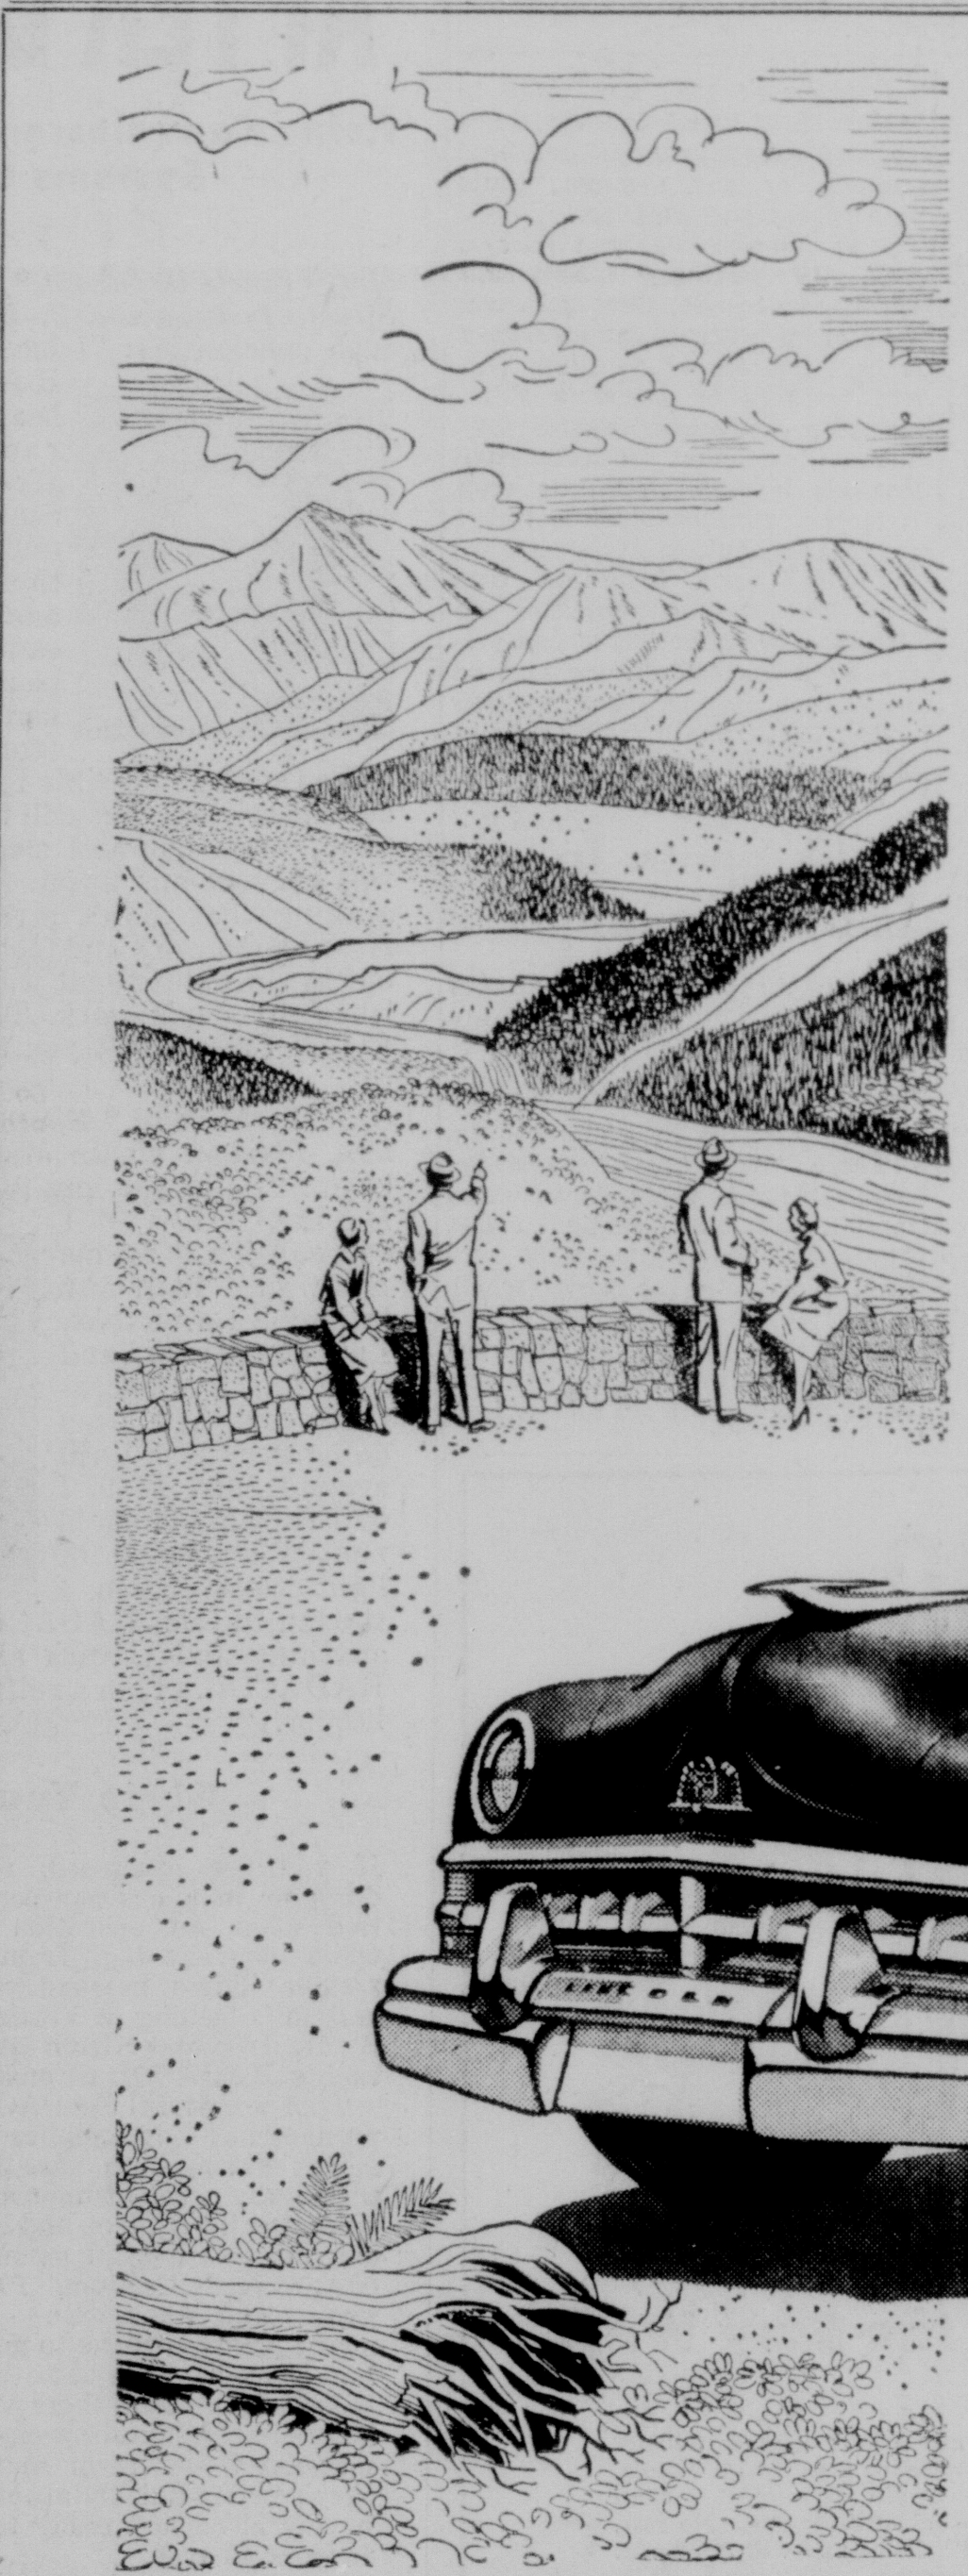

amounts of precious Calcium, Phosphorus and Manganese, elements so vital to help maintain good health. And these important Vitamins and Minerals come in special liquid form so that they can be quickly absorbed by the blood—ready to go to work at once. A big improvement is often noticed within a few days' time.

Sold on a Strict Money-Back Guarantee

HADACOL even helps build up the hemoglobin of red blood cells (when iron is needed) to course through your body, carrying these great health-building elements to every body organ—to the liver, lungs, heart and kidneys. No wonder HADACOL helps you feel wonderful.

Be fair to yourself! Give yourself a break if you have such deficiencies! Why continue to drag yourself around—a burden to yourself and your family—when relief is as close at hand as your nearest drugstore? This great HADACOL is inexpensive too—costs only a small amount a day. Trial size, only $1.25. Large family or hospital size, $3.50. Refuse substitutes.

Successful Year To County 4-H'ers Nears Close

A successful 4-H club year is drawing to a close for Pettis County 4-H'ers. The club year ends Sept. 30 and 4-H'ers will again start working to build an even stronger 4-H organization in the county. Four-H club leaders, members and parents have worked hard in making the 1950 year a banner year for Pettis County 4-H Club work. The following short review of the past summer's accomplishments is given by Bryan Phifer, Assistant County Agent, in order to give recognition to those who have contributed to the success of the many county events and to let others know what Pettis County 4-H'ers are doing.

Fifty-nine 4-H'ers enjoyed the fun and fellowship of the 3 day 4-H camp at Knob Noster State Park in July. This event not only provides a short vacation for farm boys and girls but it is an excellent medium for developing leadership and citizenship traits by giving these youth the chance to work and play cooperatively.

An attendance record was set for both the dairy judging day in July with 77 present and the livestock judging day in August with 83 in attendance. The Demonstration Training-Play Day in July was well attended despite the rain. The methods of evaluating a demonstration that were presented at this meeting were well accepted by those present and from all indications, club members are using this training in developing better demonstrations.

Achievement Day Climax

The Annual Achievement Day, held August 16 and 17 and the 4-H Livestock Show, August 18 was the climax of the summer's work for the majority of Pettis County 4-H'ers. One thousand and forty six 4-H project entries were exhibited during Achievement Day. This is 111 more than was exhibited last year and indicates that members and leaders alike are working harder toward completing projects undertaken. The second Annual County 4-H Livestock Show was the biggest surprise of the year. Two hundred eighteen head of livestock and 12 pens of poultry were shown by their 4-H owners. This is an increase of 129 head of livestock or approximately a 250% increase in size over last year's 4-H show. Such results certainly reflect the good work done by leaders, members, and parents in building a progressive 4-H program in the county.

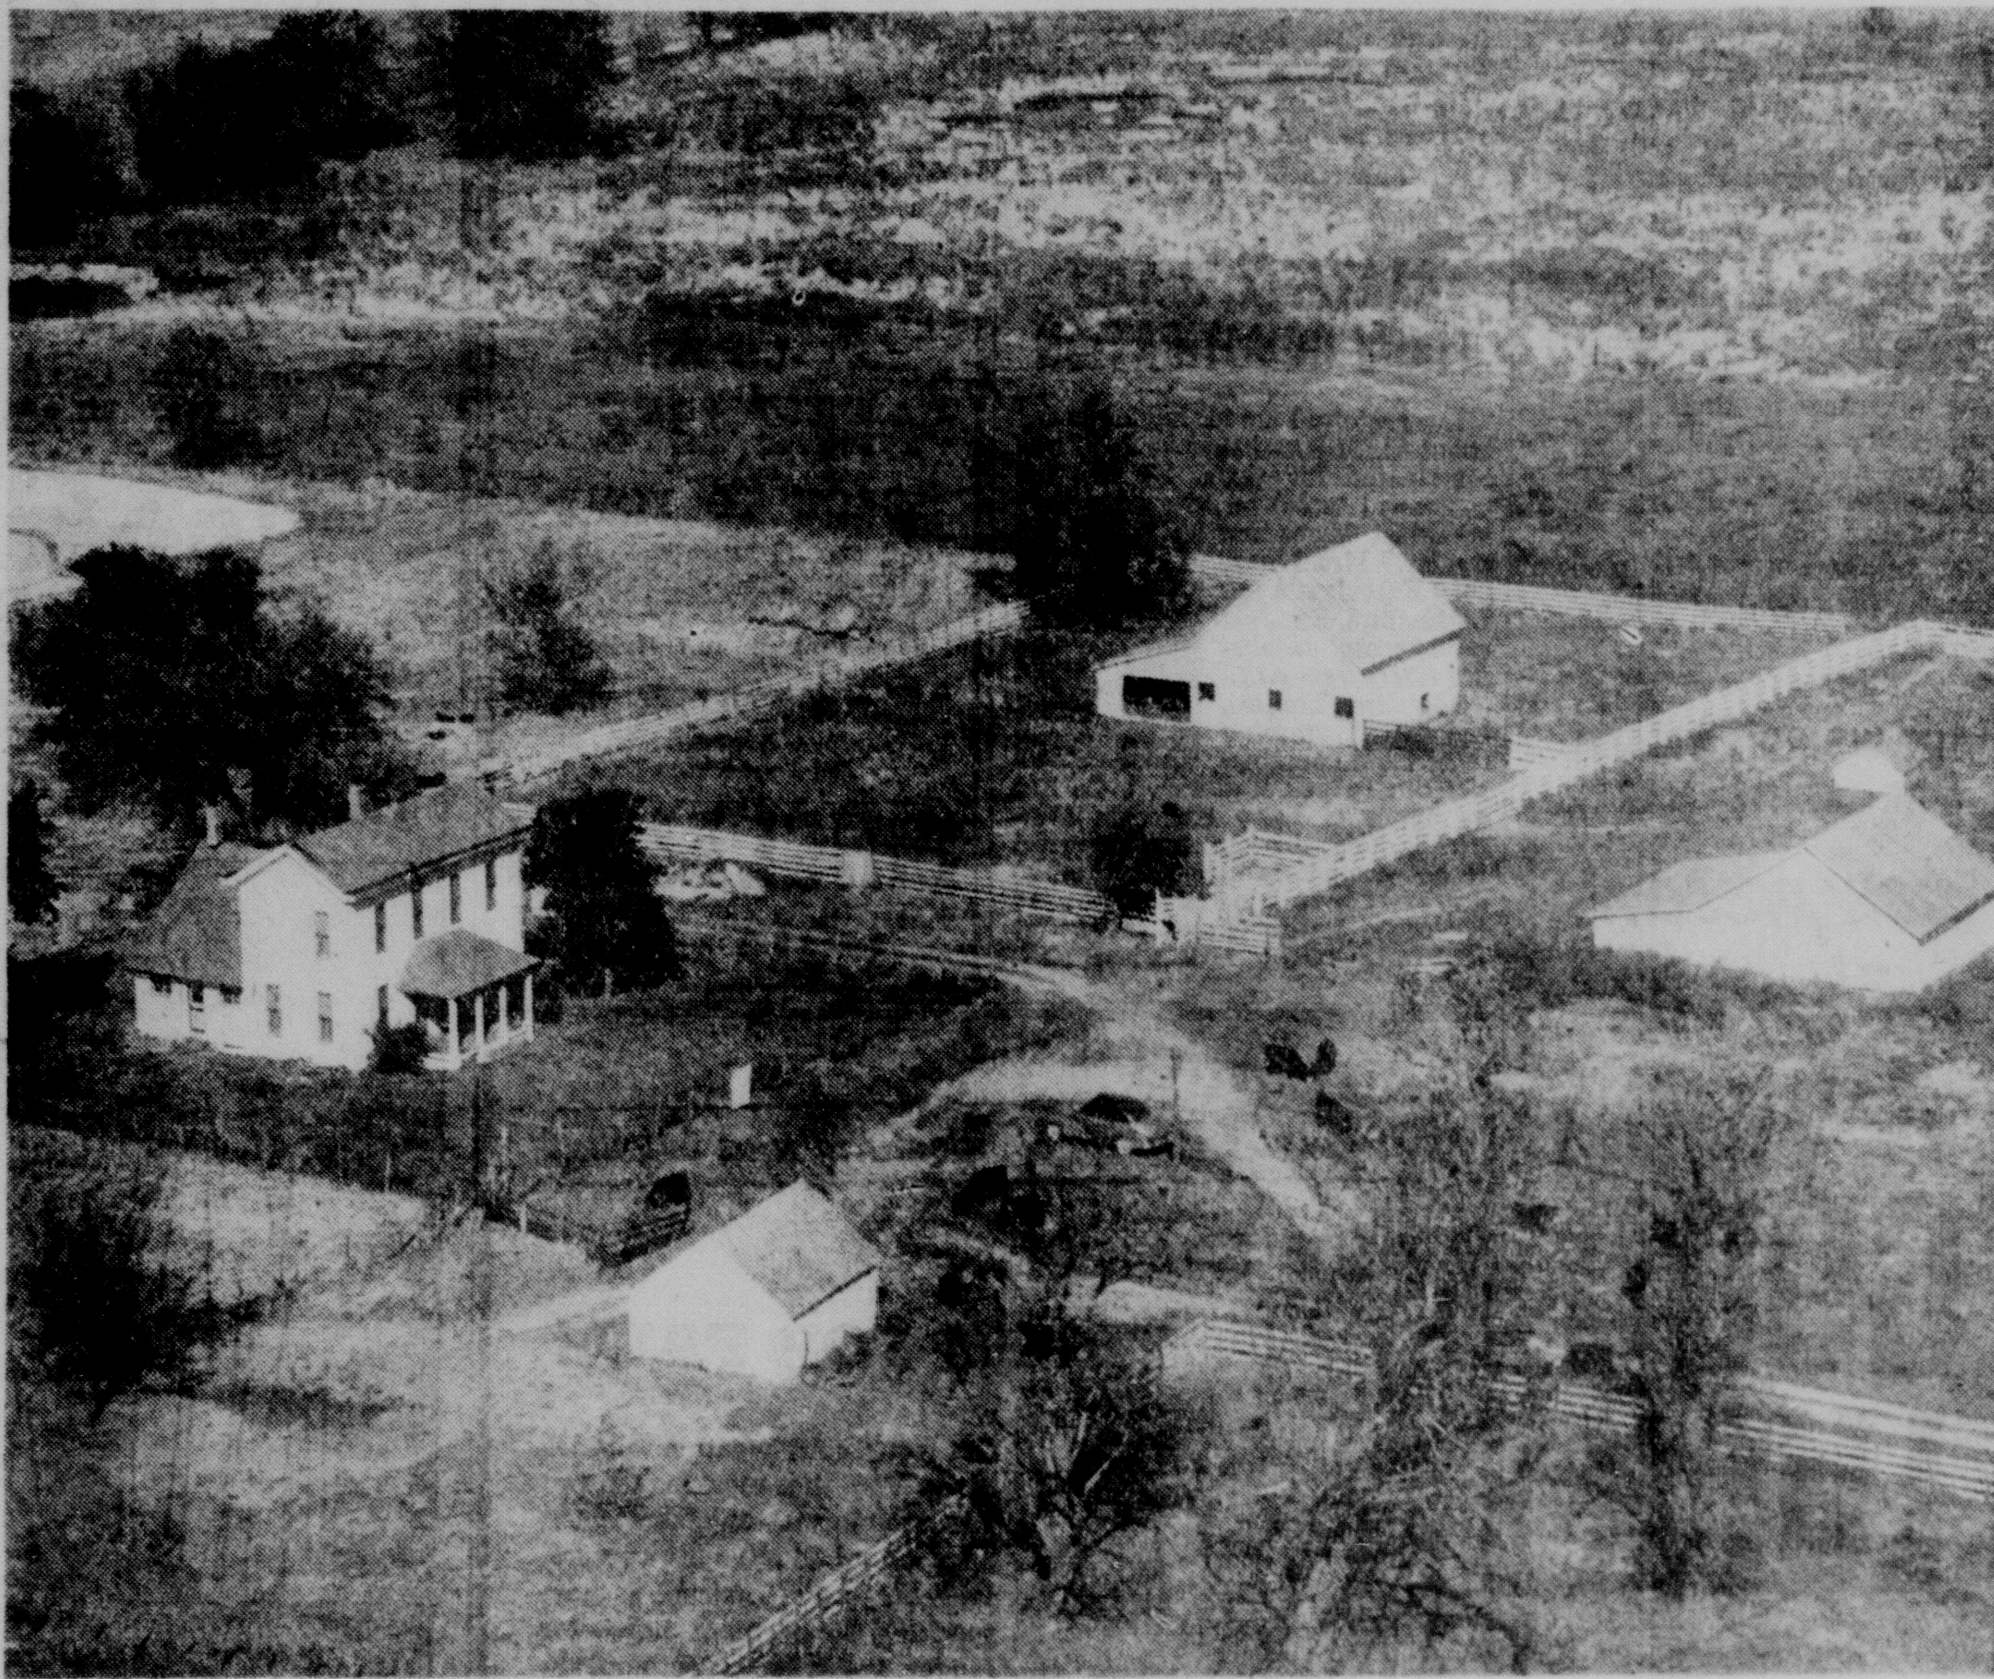

Pettis County club members continued their good work by taking their share of ribbons and honors at the State Fair. Two hundred twenty three articles, plates of vegetables, jars of fruit, etc., were exhibited and 110 head of livestock shown by local 4-H'ers. Pettis County 4-H boys and girls had the honor of being awarded the Senator Kem Trophy for the outstanding exhibit of 4-H livestock. As this is the third time the county has received this award it now becomes permanent possession of Pettis County club members.

R. L. Kahrs of the Smithton Club showed the Grand Champion barrow of the junior swine division at the fair. This 250 pound barrow later sold for $2.00 a pound for a total of $500.00. This is a new record price per pound for any market animal ever sold at the fair.

The 4-H judging teams, Home Furnishings and Food Preparation, also took top honors at the fair. The livestock judging team placed second at this district judging event.

Although club members, leaders and parents may be inclined to relax as they review this record there should be no let up until the club year finishes on September 30. During September, club members will finish all uncompleted projects and records, participate in the district and state judging events and make plans for an even bigger and better year coming up.

Mystery Farm Pictures in Central Missouri---

Is this your farm?

Most of the readers of the Democrat-Capital have been following this series of weekly Mystery Farm Pictures with considerable interest.

The pictures that appear in this space in Monday's Democrat and Tuesday morning's Capital were taken sometime ago by an aerial photographer. The pictures were not shot with the knowledge of whose farm it was. It was a random job; a picture here and a picture there.

To date there have been over sixty-two Mystery Farm Pictures published, most of which have been claimed by the occupants and owners of the various farms. Yours may be next. Watch for it! If you see your farm in the Mystery Farm space, come in and claim your picture at the Democrat-Capital news room on the second floor of the Democrat-Capital building. No strings attached; it's yours for the asking.

The mystery farm appearing in the Monday, August 21, issue of the Sedalia Democrat and the Tuesday morning, August 22 issue of the Sedalia Capital belongs to James Gordon and his wife and is located two miles east of Windsor.

The farm is composed of 360 acres and is used in general farming and a pasture land for about 47 head of Angus beef cattle. Gordon also raises hogs and has about 800 Hampshire chickens on the farm.

On the land is a five room house, a large barn and a chicken house.

Reasons That Hoarding Of Food Unnecessary

(By Gordon Nance, University of Missouri Farm Economist)

Reports of food hoarding are appearing regularly in nearly every paper. Also, the statement that hoarding is not justified—even to selfish people—by the supply situation, has been made frequently. To show how silly hoarding of food actually is, look at the present supplies of food, as compared to last year.

Food	1950 Sup.	1949 Sup.
Meats	22.2 bil. lbs.	21.7 bil. lbs.
Eggs	5.5 bil. doz.	5.2 bil. doz.
Sugar	13.7 bil. lbs.	15.0 bil. lbs.
Vegetables	38.0 bil. lbs.	37.4 bil. lbs.
Butter	1.8 bil. lbs.	1.7 bil. lbs.
Milk	124.8 bil. lbs.	122.0 bil. lbs.

The only significant decline in the supply of fruits, which is ten per cent lower than last. Note that supplies of some foods are greater than demand at present prices—which are being kept up by government purchases, loans, and the like.

Sugar and meats, two prime items of the hoarders' zeal, deserves special comment. Recent increases in sugar import quotas will result in five per cent more sugar the last half of 1950 than in the first half. Also an additional five per cent is being held in reserve in Cuba—for shipment if it is needed.

Other stocks are also available. Americans have never bought as much sugar in any year as is available in 1950.

The situation in meats is slightly different. Meat production in 1950 is expected to be two per cent higher than in 1949. But marketings of meat usually are lowest and prices highest in July and August. Marketings usually increase about one-third and prices usually decline about a sixth between August and the end of the year. Marketings are expected to increase and prices to go down again this year. Meat probably will be considerably cheaper in December and January than it is now.

The above supply situation is no guarantee that prices of a few foods will not rise some, at least for a while, in the next few weeks. If enough hoarders buy enough to radically reduce local supplies, dealers and merchants must raise their prices some—and the unethical ones will seize this opportunity to profiteer.

There are even surpluses of some of the major foods—wheat, potatoes, and butter. Prices of the foods now being eagerly bought are likely to go down later. Hoarders that are buying more than their normal needs for future use are not even intelligently selfish.

Paving In Barnlot Is Recommended

If you want to get your feeding out of the mud, pave your barnlot says the Extension Office. Many farmers have saved enough in

Time Short To Protect Crop

The Pettis county PMA committee gives a reminder again to wheat producers that the time is growing short to place their investment in their wheat crop under protection of a all-risk Federal Crop Insurance Policy. September 15, 1950, is the final date on which an application may be signed to protect the 1951 wheat crop.

The weather and insects are our most common hazard and we know we can do nothing about the weather and very little about insects which attack our wheat fields. Suppose the rains we have had the last week had come during the comparatively few days suitable for harvest in early July. Many fields now harvested and forgotten about would be in the same condition that a few are now—with the crop a dismal mess and hardly worth salvaging.

It might be worthy of note that Hessian Fly infestation was particularly bad in many sections in feed alone to pay the low cost of a thin concrete floor. And these farmers get extra dividends. Their barns are kept cleaner. They save work in getting the cows clean before milking. And the energy cows use in wading through mud can go into beef or milk instead.

the spring of 1936 and again in 1946, both of which followed summers of excessive moisture. Next summer, or any summer, could be a repeat performance.

Even though wheat producers can't do anything about the weather or insects, they can cover their crops with wheat insurance. It isn't guaranteed to bring perfect weather or keep away insects, or produce a bumper crop, but at least the producer can't lose his investment in the crop. It is just good business to insure any investment.

Federal Crop Insurance does that. The county committee invites the investigation of the policy by wheat producers and an application may be signed at their office, 209½ South Ohio, Sedalia, Mo.

Bald Spots In Land Warning

To emphasize the seriousness of soil erosion, the Pettis county PMA committee calls attention to the "bald spots" showing through on many farms in Pettis county. These "bald spots," says the committee are there because the topsoil has been carried away. The subsoil has come to the surface. It is like the rocks which appear to be coming out of the ground each year. They show up, not because they "grow" or are being pushed up from underneath, but because the soil around them is being carried away.

The committee said they were "spotlighting" these "bald spots" not so much with the idea that something should be done to bring them back into production as to keep them from getting bigger and developing in other places. In most cases it is "quite a job" to bring these barren areas back into production but they can be kept from increasing both in size and number.

The "bald spot" is a warning that the soil—the topsoil which supports plant growth—is being carried away. Plowing and cultivating the land up and down the slope provides waterways, or channels, which speed up erosion.

Farming on the contour, keeping the land protected with a thick growing crop, constructing terraces, and maintaining a good supply of organic matter in the soil, help to prevent "bald spots."

The Agricultural Conservation Program, the committee points out, provides financial assistance to farmers to help them keep their land productive and protect it against washing and blowing away. Information on practices adopted to the county is available at the county PMA office at 209½ South Ohio, Sedalia, Missouri.

Located a short distance north-east of Knob Noster are two hills. The history connected with these hills is closely related to the organization and background of the town of Knob Noster. The name itself is taken from the hills, Knob Noster being a Latin derivative meaning "our knob."

There is a great deal of colorful tradition, and even a greater amount of constructive speculation connected with the hills. Primarily, the hills are important because they furnished the town with a name, but from the standpoint of the adventurer the exotic Indian legends related to them are the important factors.

As a result of these legends the hills have retained their popularity among the residents and have never ceased to loom in the minds of those interested as a challenge to their individual ambitions.

Tribal Battle

Some legends speak of a great tribal battle which was fought on the site of the two mounds. Following the battle the mounds were formed by the tribes either as a monument or a burial site for the warriors slain during the conflict. Other legends claim that an Indian treasure, the main portion of which is supposed to be gold, was said to have been carried to the site by the tribe and buried.

Since Knob Noster's establishment in the late 1840's and early 1850's there have always been a few citizens in the community who acquire the urge to seek out this treasure. One group, digging in the mounds, uncovered several human skeletons believed to be the remains of the once prominent society of "mound dwellers." Along with the bones were a variety of primitive relics and implements used by the savage tribes.

Moved Post Office

In 1850 a post office was established in the old settlement, located one mile north of the present town. In 1864 the Missouri Pacific railroad finally made its way into the territory and when this occurred, like other towns throughout the country that found the railroad approaching, the community moved from its original

Editor's Note

This is the third in a series of feature articles being published in the Sedalia Democrat-Capital on towns in this trade region. One article will appear every two weeks, accompanied at intervals by the photographs of the featured towns.

A reporter has visited or will visit each place in the area seeking information on the background, history of the town, unusual historical incidents, outstanding industries and other data to be used in the story.

site and established itself on the railroad line. This movement took place in Knob Noster in 1865 and 1866.

Sam Workman took 40 acres of his land and laid out the town. In 1867 the frame buildings that had been constructed on the main street in Knob Noster burned and after the wreckage had been cleared brick structures were erected. The brick that went into these buildings was taken from a company located a short distance outside of the town.

Bank Established

The First National Bank of Knob Noster was established in one of these buildings in 1869. Another building housed the Fields' Opera house, where various companies of traveling actors would perform during the their road season. This building collapsed about ten years ago.

Early one morning in 1928 three men entered the Knob Noster bank as it was opening, drew guns on the employees and fled with $4,500, $2,500 of which was in gold. About two months later the same three robbed the La Monte bank. This time the trio was apprehended and all the money taken from both banks was recovered. During the years of the depression ten of the seventeen banks in Johnson county failed. Of that seven that were able to remain open two were located in Knob Noster.

Have Livestock Sales

Knob Noster has two hatcheries, the Knob Noster hatchery and the White Diamond hatchery. Also in Knob Noster is the 90,000 bushel storage elevator, owned by W. J. Carr and L. P. Lay. The elevator is used to store government grain. Each week a livestock sale is held in a sale barn owned by F. M. Crowder and O'Bannon Marshall, the town's mayor.

The town, a fourth class city with a population of 578, has a city council and marshal along with an eight-man volunteer fire department and one fire truck. The water supply is privately owned. The town, which is without a sewerage system, is proposing to put in a street drainage system. This system will drain surplus water off the streets and eliminate the formation of stagnate pools. Many of the dirt streets are to be improved and graveled. The parking spaces near the churches will also be reconditioned.

In the town there are six churches, an elementary and high school with two buses to bring children living in the rural areas in for school.

State Park Near

The Knob Noster State park, a short distance west of the town, is one of the largest parks in the state. The park covers almost 2,200 acres which have picnic and camping areas, a large lake and many other improvements.

During World War II an Army Air base for the training of glider pilots was located south of the town. Several thousand troops were stationed there and some of the country's longest and most practical runways were on the base. This was a constant source of income to the residents of Knob Noster.

Following the war the Air Base was placed on an war-time basis and in the last ten years the population has decreased by 70 persons, but the citizens and administrators of the town continue to work for improvements.

Chiefs Win Two Games

Near Hitless Game For Imhauser as Chiefs Win 11 to 0; Brown Won Monday

The Sedalia Chiefs came through Sunday and Monday to jump into a two-game lead for the championship of the Central Missouri Ban Johnson league by defeating the Brookfield Bombers 11-0 and 2-1. The proposed seven game series now moves north of the Missouri river to Brookfield for three night games starting Wednesday night.

Two Champions Play

The Bombers, north division champions and the Chiefs, south division champions, are playing for the CEMO title. Both teams were undisputed winners of their respective divisions this year, having won both halves of the summer schedules.

Joe Imhauser, pitching for the Chiefs, was denied a no-hit game Sunday when Duckworth, relief pitcher for the Bombers, singled in the eighth inning of the game. And Imhauser was not too lenient with his free trips to first, allowing the Bombers only three walks.

Fireworks broke loose in the Sunday game when Duckworth was knocked out in the opening frame, allowing six runs off of four hits. Linscott was touched for two in the first and three later on in the game and gave nine hits and walked ten batters. The Chiefs scored one in the fourth and two more in the fifth inning.

Monday's game was a thriller for the fans, close and with plenty of action.

Bombers Had a Lead

Jumping in with a run in the second inning, it looked as if it would end up 1 to 0 favoring the Bombers up to the seventh inning. But in the bottom half of the seventh Shawver got on base, stole second and on a wild throw he circled the bases to score and tie up the game.

From then on it was a doubt in the minds of the fans if the game wouldn't go to several extra innings. Both teams tightened up. But in the bottom of the tenth he needed tally was scored. Bill "Bones" Morgan walked. Bill Holst sacrificed him with a bunt. On second Morgan kept taking a good lead off of second base to worry Tooley. Carl Barbour took a swing on the second pitch and sent a line drive for a hit into left field and Morgan came sailing around third base and scored when the throw from Neighbors to the plate was bad.

Brown Comes Through

Bobby Brown was on the mound for the Chiefs and scattered five hits. He allowed two walks. Tooley allowed six hits, the final one at a crucial moment. Nine walks were given up by Tooley to the Chief batters.

The Bombers must win at least two games on their home diamond before the sixth or seventh games will be returned to Sedalia next Sunday afternoon and night. Should the Chiefs take two games at Brookfield the series will come to an end.

Manager G. O. "Dutch" Hawley will have Imhauser on the mound in at least one of the nightcap contests and Brown may get a chance at a night game there. Just who will start Wednesday night has not been announced by Hawley.

Attendance in Sports Holds Own

NEW YORK, Sept. 5—(P)—If the Labor Day turnouts at major league doubleheaders and the race tracks can be used as a gauge, sports attendance is holding its own.

The major league crowds yesterday, for instance, were only 9,919 below the Labor Day total of 1949, and the Philadelphia Phillies' runaway in the National League race may be responsible for that.

At the five major tracks where a comparison could be made, attendance was off only 9,221 but $22,767 more went through the mutual wickets.

The overall major league attendance at eight parks was 244,692 compared with 254,611 in 1949.

The American League, which is giving the fans a tight four-team race, accounted for 152,201 of the total turnout. The National drew only 92,491.

A total of 153,466 paid admissions to the five big tracks which were operating both this Labor Day and last. This compared with 162,687 for the same tracks a year ago.

But this time the patrons had more money to bet — $8,368,463 compared with $8,345,696.

Bowling Officially Will Open Tonight

League bowling at the Sedalia Bowling lanes opens tonight with two women's leagues cutting the ribbons officially opening the bowling season. The Business and Professional Women's will open the fall and winter bowling parade at 6:30 o'clock. The Ladies Merchants league take over the alleys at 9:00 o'clock.

Ladies Merchants league consists of the following teams from Sage's meeting the Vogue Shop; Town and Country meeting Acme Cleaners and the Lo-Mart Home Laundry clashing with Falstaff. On the opening nights the play is on a handicap basis.

In the men's leagues teams are still needed for both the Thursday night sessions and one for the 9:00 o'clock shift on Friday night, one for the 9:00 o'clock league on Monday.

The men's bowling will open Thursday night. Wednesday night will probably be filled by the Missouri Pacific Shop Boosters and the Junior Chamber of Commerce. Neither of which will start this week.

Redbirds Lose To Even The Weak Clubs

Wyrostek Drove in Eight Runs in Two Labor Day Games

By The Associated Press

The situation is almost completely out of hand for the bruised and battered St. Louis Cardinals, who now have lost seven straight games.

Even the weakest clubs in the league are shoving them around. Yesterday the seventh-place Cincinnati Reds walloped them 5-4 and 8-4 in a Labor day doubleheader that was no holiday for the Cardinals. Thus the Redbirds lost all five contests of their brief and miserable trip.

In their last seven contests the Cardinals have yielded 55 runs and 88 hits, using 26 pitchers or an average of almost four a game.

In Cincinnati yesterday the Cards were limited to seven hits in each game. These included a home run and two doubles by Stan Musial and a homer by Bill Howerton.

Southpaw Max Lanier was knocked out in the fourth inning of the opener after allowing all five Cincinnati runs. Howard Pollet had a 1-1 tie on his hands until the sixth inning of the nightcap when the Reds blasted him for three runs. Ted Wilks was kayoed during a four-run outburst in the next inning.

Drove in Eight Runs

Most of the damage was done by ex-Cardinal Johnny Wyrostek, who drove in a total of eight runs on five hits in the two games.

The Browns, also playing away from home, lost 4-2 in the opener of a doubleheader with Detroit but dealt a blow to Tiger pennant hopes by coming from behind for a 5-4 triumph in the second game.

Hard-luck Ned Garver turned in a creditable pitching job in the opener but Detroit came to life and counted four runs in the eighth for the victory. A single by Johnny Groth which Ken Wood fumbled for an error let in three of the runs.

The Browns were trailing 3-0 in the eighth inning of the second contest, and the Tigers had visions of picking up a game on the leading New York Yankees. Two walks and three singles tied the score. Hank Arft then drove in the fourth Brownie run.

Detroit came back with a run in the ninth to again tie the score, but a pass to Jim Deling and Ray Coleman's triple in the ninth gave the Browns their margin of victory.

Johnny Hopp to The Yankees

NEW YORK, Sept. 5—(P)—The New York Yankees, seeking added reserve strength for the American League pennant drive, today obtained Johnny Hopp, veteran first baseman and outfielder, from the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Hopp was purchased for "a player or players to be named later" after waivers had been secured from all National League clubs. He will report to the Yankees immediately.

Hopp, playing his twelfth major league season, has a .340 batting average this year. He is a left-

Teen-Age Blues Beat Frisioe 5-3

The Teen-Age Blues defeated Frisioe Clowns Sunday afternoon on the Housel Park diamond 5 to 3. It was the second time the Clowns have bowed to the Teen-Agers, the first being an 8-4 victory.

C. A. Smith went the route for the Blues and was in trouble only once, that being when the visitors scored two runs in one frame. Lees was on the receiving end for Smith. Brashears and Newkirk hurled for the visitors with Poe behind the plate.

Base hits were scarce, the Blues getting 5 and Frisioe 4.

Sedalia did all their scoring in the first two innings. In the first Lane led off with a single, Watson drew a walk and both scored on Fisher's double off the first baseman's knee. In the second Smith and Lane drew successive passes and then Smith scored on Watson's single to center. Fisher came through for his second double to score Lane and Watson.

Fisher led the hitting with two for three and knocked in four of the Blues five runs.

The Blues lineup consisted of Watson, second base; W. Walter, center field; J. Walter, right field; Slocum, third base; Lane, shortstop; Fisher, first base; Lees, catcher; Higgins, right field; Smith, pitcher. Bruce Wall was out of the lineup due to an injury received in practice Saturday afternoon.

Next Sunday the Blues will go to Warsaw to meet the Warsaw Junior Legion. At this time the team, friends of the team and families will enjoy a picnic to celebrate the successful 1950 season of the Teen-Agers.

Those planning to attend are requested to call Garnett Thomas or Bill Watson at 2167.

The FORMER MISS FREY

By Edwin Rutt Copyright 1950 by NEA Service, Inc.

THE garden was completely shut in, on three sides by walls of white limestone, on the fourth by the low, sprawling, comfortable house itself.

Gilbert Summerfield was giving a party. And the party was quiet and opulent, restrained almost to the point of decadence, as all of Gilbert Summerfield's parties were.

The guitars of the half-dozen musicians, unobtrusively ranged at one end of the garden, throbbed quietly, so that a suggestion, rather than a blare of music, hung in the cool sweet air.

Gil Summerfield, in a yellow linen coat perfectly cut to his tall figure, moved among his guests, the little half-tolerant, half-cynical smile on his lips. He walked with a slight, barely-perceptible limp of which he appeared completely unconscious. He had very black hair, faintly-smiling black eyes and a long wiry body. There was a suggestion of steely strength about his arms and shoulders. His fingers were brown and strong, the first two of the right hand stained yellow from his eternal cigarettes.

As he passed the corner where old Mrs. Delavan was holding court, she put out a hand. The thin hand, heavy with old-fashioned rings, closed with a kind of possessiveness over Gil's wrist. Ancient, shrewd, acid-tongued Margaret Delavan was very fond of Gilbert Summerfield.

Gil dropped down on the grass beside her chair. "Getting enough to drink, Delly?" he inquired.

"I get enough," Mrs. Delavan said comfortably, "or I raise the roof. I'll say this for you and your parties, though Gil Summerfield. You have dinner late enough. It's midnight now."

"We started at 10 o'clock, Delly," Gil pointed out.

"Bah! I don't believe in turning night into day. But that's what a place like this does for you," she waved a bejeweled hand to indicate Bermuda. "How long have you been here now, Gilbert?"

"Three years now. I've had this house for two and a half."

"A Nepenthe of wasters. Look at 'em lying all around." Mrs. Delavan's keen eyes were traveling over the guests. Suddenly she pointed. Mrs. Delavan, by birth, breeding and character, was one who could point and get away with it.

"Isn't that Ede Frey over there?" she asked.

Summerfield followed her finger. Reclining in a glider across the garden was a tall young woman in a white chiffon evening gown. Her hair was the color of pale bronze and the slight wind blew wisps of it around the narrow untanned oval of her face. She had a good straight nose, high cheekbones and a wide scarlet mouth. The chin below the mouth was pointed and determined. Curled on the glider at her feet was a huge Irish setter, belonging to Summerfield. The candles laid a yellow tint across his sleek red back. A gentleman in a cream dinner jacket was bending over the young woman, holding a match to her cigarette.

"Yes," Gil Summerfield nodded. "That's Edith Frey—I should say, the former Edith Frey. She's Mrs. Peter Flood now, you know."

"What's she doing here? Living or vacationing?"

"Oh! For all his urbanity Gil Summerfield's shrug was a little too casual. "Living," he writes.

"Wasn't she," Mrs. Delavan had to address the side of his face because he had turned his head away, "quite the glamour girl a few years ago?"

Gil's voice was a little impatient. "You know darn well she was, Delly. You know all about such things."

A gentleman was bending over the young woman, holding a match to her cigarette.

"Of course, I know," Mrs. Delavan looked at him shrewdly. "It didn't do you much good when she married young Flood, did it, Gilbert?"

SUMMERFIELD'S hand opened on his knees and the fingers spread. "I'll be trite and say, 'that's life.'"

"I admire philosophers. But didn't old Cornelius Frey cut her off without a cent when she married Flood?"

"That's the story."

"Then how do they live down here?"

"I think," Gil said cautiously, "that Ede has something of her own. From her mother."

"Corny Frey," said Mrs. Delavan, with authority, "is a mean old devil. Of course, this Flood was a palpable fortune hunter but Corny could let them have something. He reeks with money. Had a private fortune to start with and doubled it, they say, in that advertising business of his."

Summerfield turned amused eyes upon her. "My gosh, Delly, what puts such ideas into your head? They're married. Quite happily, as far as I know."

"You don't know anything. When you get my age you'll be able to read faces. And people!" Suddenly she put a hand on his shoulder. "I like you, young Gil. You're a waster and indolent and no account, but I like you. You've got too much money, that's your trouble. And I wish you didn't have. I'd like to see you settled down and amounting to something, but I don't suppose I ever will." She sighed. "Well, I presume you're bored. So run along. Run along."

Gil sauntered away. Near the door leading into the house was a large table loaded with bottles. He poured brandy into a snifter and carried it away with him. For a moment he leaned against the pink-tinted side of the house, studying the face of Eve Flood over the rim of the snifter. Perhaps he thought, old Delly had been right. Perhaps he hadn't, as yet, the ability to read faces. He smiled. No doubt. Delly had started the wheels of his imagination turning. Ede's face, upturned to the man in the cream dinner jacket, was laughing and alive. But, it seemed to Gil, there was a trace of bitterness around the corners of the mouth, and her lips were a hard red line that laughter couldn't hide.

HE hadn't seen much of Ede these last few years. But two months ago when she and her husband had come to Bermuda and taken the unpretentious cottage overlooking Riddle's Bay, they had renewed their acquaintance.

Gil's mouth twisted wryly. Once it had been friendship, very good friendship. But a casual drifting friendship. Too casual, Gil thought now, too drifting. He'd merely been one of the men who were always "around" Miss Edith Frey. There'd been no particular reason for her to consider him when the more spectacular and then-successful Peter Flood had more or less crashed into her life.

Peter Flood had come out of the Midwest and brought with him a touch of its drive and energy. He had also brought a play that he proceeded to sell to a well-known producer. The thing had run for a season, which in itself was nothing especially startling. But it was Flood's first and the critics made much of it. For a time Peter Flood had been the fair-haired boy. He was seen everywhere, and with everybody who counted. And, presently, he was seen chiefly with Ede Frey.

Apparently Peter Flood, with his bold, almost arrogant eyes, his shock of ginger-colored hair and his full, rather sullen mouth, was a man who made things happen suddenly. All at once, and quietly, the marriage was an accomplished fact.

Rumors started then. It was said in cafe society that old Cornelius Frey, wealthy advertising agency owner, opposed the marriage. There were stories of bitter quarrels between Cornelius and his new son-in-law; between Cornelius and Ede. People entertained theories, and kept them none too private, that old Cornelius, keen as a razor though his fortune was originally an inherited one, perceived that this energetic young man was one who, even though temporarily successful, believed in making financial assurance doubly sure. Cornelius, they said also was long on family and tradition. And the roots of Peter Flood were obscure.

Some Even Get Homesick To Be In Japan

Many Had Been On Duty There In Occupation

By Don Whitehead

WITH AMERICAN TROOPS IN KOREA—(P)—In World War II, the U.S. soldier yearned to return home to New York or Kansas or Texas—wherever his home might be. But in this war the GIs also are homesick for Japan.

Most of the troops were called from occupation duties in Hirohito's island empire to battle North Korean Communists. Most of them had been in Tokyo or Yokohama for one, two or three years.

It wasn't like home. But the boys learned to like Japan. They liked the Japanese girls, too, and many of them fell in love with an almond-eyed beauty. There were week-end outings in the mountains and sightseeing trips through the countryside.

Then suddenly they were pulled out of their new life into a strange country and a strange war. The things they see in Korea—the poverty and filth and primitive living conditions—bring nostalgic memories of the neatness and beauty of Japan.

"I didn't know we had it so good until we left Japan," a soldier said. "That country looks better to me all the time I'm here."

It isn't only the war that gives Korea a bad name with the troops. It's the king-sized fleas that chew on them wherever they are, the savage mosquitoes that rise out of the swampy rice paddies to harass them at night, and the feeling that they can not tell friend from foe among the natives.

Seeing End Would Help War is a lonely and dirty business at least. But it seems even more dirty and more lonely for the troops in Korea. Maybe it wouldn't be so bad if this were a victorious army and the troops could see the end of the war just ahead.

But it isn't a victorious army. It's an army that has known nothing but fight and pull back—fight and pull back again. They can't see the end of it yet.

The one big thing for which the field soldier can be grateful is that Korea's valleys are laced with clear cool streams pouring down from the mountains—streams where men can wash away the dirt of battle from their bodies and clean the filth from their clothing.

In every stream, there are men bathing or soaking in the running water, relaxing for a short time from the strain of war.

Korea is not all ugliness, of course. There is grandeur to the mountains rising 3,000 or 4,000 feet above the valleys. The emerald rice fields from a distance look like flat plains of green grass waving in the breeze.

But the fighting troops have little time for beauty when mountains are hiding places of the guerrillas and rice paddies

Missouri Pacific

Lee Steele, boiler shop foreman, has returned to work after recovering from a major operation which he underwent at a hospital in Kansas City.

John Thomas, carman welder, attended the American Legion convention over the week end in Kansas City. Mr. Thomas is commander of Post 16.

H. W. Young, who has been welding supervisor for the Missouri Pacific in De Soto, Mo., has returned to Sedalia in the same capacity and assumed his duties at the shops Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Young will continue to reside at 819 West Third street.

Homer Earhart, machinist helper, and Vernie Means were in St. Louis Tuesday attending the ball game between the Cardinals and the Phillies.

Roy Williams, sheet metal worker, who has been off duty for the past several weeks on account of illness, returned to work Monday.

Jack Kirkhart, of Kansas City, has returned home, after spending a few days visiting relatives and friends in Sedalia. Jack completed his apprenticeship in the machine shop at the shops here several years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Ike Warren were week end visitors in St. Louis attending the baseball games. Mr. Warren is a machinist.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barrick will leave the latter part of the week for Austin, Texas, where they will spend a vacation visiting their son and can conceal an enemy machine-gun.

Unfortunately, the Americans will remember Korea long, but not well despite the fact that many brave South Koreans are fighting beside them.
